BACKGROUND and SCOPE

After almost 20 years of restructuring of the Electricity Supply Industry and the introduction of markets, it appears timely to assess the impacts that they have had:

- Assess general issues: security of supply, economics, energy policy, environment
- Examine alternative market designs and regulatory processes
- Assess the change of the role of the various players in planning, investment and operation.

PARTICIPANTS

The Symposium is directed towards transmission and system operators, market operators, regulators, suppliers, traders and universities.
